

Southern Living Sunrooms

By WE Window Expo

YEAR END SALES EVENT! SAVE NOW ON

SCREEN ROOMS-SUNROOMS-PATIO COVERS

Some companies say 'custom', but in reality you get only a few limited options to choose from – you either fit into their glass box or you don't! When we say custom, we mean built from the ground up to meet your exact specifications. And our sunrooms are rock-solid – built in Texas for Texas weather!

Southern Living Sunrooms

By WE Window Expo

Southern Living Sunrooms

By WE Window Expo

SAVE 15%

before November 30, 2015!

0% FINANCE OPTIONS AVAILABLE

* Not valid with any other offer, discount coupon nor on current or prior sales. Discount available only during initial consultation. Credit approval required for financing. Different lending institutions have different programs and rates. Ask your representative for details.

(214) 919-0592

2430 LACY LANE, #102, CARROLLTON, TX 75006

GREAT TEXAS MAGIC FESTIVAL

Photo by CRAIG KELLY/City of Wylie

David Knight appears to be about to plunge a sword into his wife, Kylie, trapped inside a box, as part of Wylie's "Night of Wonder."

'Wonder' acts wow crowd

Wylie, in conjunction with the Dallas Magic Clubs, presented The Great Texas Magic Festival in Wylie Oct. 25-29. The week ended Oct. 29 with a show, "Night of Wonder," that featured seven illusion acts, following Wylie's annual trick-or-treat event, Boo on Ballard. Thousands brought their kids downtown to collect candy from merchants, and many stayed downtown to see the family-friendly show.

Ava Byers, 9, winner of the 2014 Texas Association of Magicians junior event, was sidekick to Mayor Eric Hogue, the master of ceremonies.

Above: Susan Stephens, wife of Wylie Mayor Pro Tem Keith Stephens, trusses up Fred Becker as he prepared to perform an escape illusion.

Left: Trigg Watson opened the show and kept the audience guessing as he captured a bubble and turned it into a crystal ball.